This fact has led to the Monday morning last. It is curious, however, to note the multiplied obstacles which prevent the perception of this fact, if it does exist. All the measures of these revolutions are shortening with the revolutions themselves. If we begin, for instance, with the earth, the problem is to accertain whether the time occupied by the earth in its journey around the sun is gradually becoming shorter. The first plan that suggests i self is to compare this with the rotation of the earth upon its axis, to see whether the year coupies the same number of days and hour- and seconds that it did in crying for a bit of bread, I tuk a dhrink for former times. If the earth and the sun are gradually becoming cold, this winding of the earth towards the sun would tend to keep up its warmth, and it may be a wise provision for prolonging, by some millions of years, the continuance of animal life on the globe .-But this period must come to a close, for if ny of the earth is to curve gradually inward till, with a velocity hundreds of times greater than that of a cannon ball, it dashes itself with an awfully sublime crash into the mass of the sun .- Scientific American.

A TENNESSEE DEER PARK .- A Nashville (Tenn.) correspondent of the Rochester Union and Advertiser discourses as follows:

We have visited two estates near Nashville both of which are worthy of notice. The first is that of Gen. Harding, a gentleman of of large hereditary wealth, whose extensive lands are situated five or six miles from the this city. I cannot now remember how many acres he possesses, his park alone contains 800 acres. We here saw between 200 and 400 deer, which on our approach displayed all their native attitude and habits, and scampered away, fleet and gracefully; also a herd of elk, between which and us a magnificent buck of the same species kept moving on guard, with such evident impatience, and with such an ominous tossing of his long pointed antiers, that we took another direction, as we were well convinced that these his natural weapons of warfare, were long enough and sharp enough to reach through and beyond our carriage. His predecessor Falkenburg, T W Capt in the patriarchal honors of the herd, we were informed, showed himself so combattive and dangerous to visitors, that his horns were sawed off as a precaution of necessity; but, either taking this mutilation to heart. or being unable any longer to maintain his position against his younger competitors by force, the old fellow abdicated his throne, and now passes his days in retirement. It was carious to notice that while the deer proper all ran out at our approach, the female elks, of a closely kindred species, considered themselves safe while their male guardian kept a guard on the line between them and us. In this same park we came upon a social gathering of about thirty buffaloes, consisting of bulls, cows and calves, the juniors basking lazily in the sun, and the old patriarchs chewing their cuds with great gravity and a look of infinite wisdom.
